

Media war in USA on stem cell research: Michael J. Fox, Jim Caviezel and others

Just before the November 7 referendum on stem cell research, the political struggle has been taken to the media. Michael J. Fox, a strong supporter of embryonic stem cell research, appears in a commercial to liberalize existing legislation, supporting a Democrat. On the other side of the debate, Actor Jim Caviezel (The Passion), joins several catholic actors and athletes to give their testimony in order to oppose the use of embryos in stem cell and related research.
